To Whom it May Concern,

The Korea Society and the Southeast U.S. Korean Chamber of Commerce has embarked on a new exciting national outreach and strategic initiative. An initiative that follows pursuit in a recent United States-Republic of Korea ("ROK") Leader's Joint Statement released in The White House (United States-Republic of Korea Leaders' Joint Statement | The White House).

Based on President Biden's recent visit to the Republic of Korea, the strategic effort in economic and technology partnership that leads to a comprehensive U.S. - ROK alliance has become more importance than ever before. In this initiative, one of the most importance step is the education of the public and next generation leaders in the development of understanding of this alliance in our community.

The Korea Society and the Southeast U.S. Korean Chamber of Commerce would like to invite you to support us to our upcoming conference on July 14, 2022, at The Commerce Club Atlanta. We ask you to participate and join us to further the mutually beneficial aspects of the U.S.- ROK relationship, including the importance of the future-oriented economic partnership, joint investments and future policy.

Our event is titled: "The Comprehensive, Strategic U.S.-Korea Alliance". This forum is an aim to highlight the diplomatic, security and economic aspects of the multifaceted, dynamic U.S.-Korea relationship. It will be composed of a keynote speech, two morning panels, a luncheon, and closing reception. The purpose is to connect the local Atlanta and the wider Southeast U.S. audience with high-impact speakers to explore a series of engaging topics. We will touch basis on related challenges and opportunities concerning the future direction of the U.S.-Korea Alliance.

Our panel will have Pat Wilson, Commissioner of Georgia Department of Economic Development, General (Ret.) Vincent K Brooks, Former UN Command, Major General Lee KyungKoo, General (Ret.) Curtis M. Scaparrotti, Former Supreme Allied Commander, U.S. Department of State, and various corporate support like Kia Georgia, SK Battery America, Delta, and more.

We believe that your engagement would be important as the leading the community and representation that aids in creating next generation leaders, providing education to foster greater international relationships, investments and economic development impacting the greater place we live. I would be glad to follow up with any further information which could aid your decision, and we look forward to discussing this opportunity further.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Tom Byrne / President & CEO, The Korea Society (thomas.byrne@koreasociety.org)
Jae Kim / President, Southeast U.S. Korean Chamber of Commerce (jae.kim@seuskcc.org)
